CANCELLATION AND DEFERRAL POLICY:

IMPORTANT: The GEO Cancellation and Deferral Policy is effective from the time a student agrees to this policy by signing electronically as part of the GEO application, regardless of application or acceptance status. It is essential to read this policy before a potential cancellation or deferral takes place, in order to understand the ramifications.

Application Fee: An application fee of $50 is due at the time of application; applications will not be considered until the application fee is received. Once paid, the application fee is non-refundable under any circumstances.
Program Deposit: A non-refundable program deposit of $500 is due within one week of nomination offer, unless otherwise specified. The program deposit is not an additional fee but is part of the total program fee. Once the deposit is charged on the student account or submitted to GEO, the program deposit is non-refundable except in cases where a student is denied acceptance to the program for which he or she has applied. If you do not complete the required application materials by the deadline, your application will be considered abandoned and cancelled by GEO. In such cases, the deposit will not be refunded. Students who fail to pay the program deposit by the first cancellation/deferral date listed below for their program will have their program application canceled.

Cancellation/Deferral Penalty: The Danish Institute for Study Abroad (DIS) program fee is billed by University of Oregon but follows the DIS refund policies. Please read the DIS policy carefully before a potential cancellation or deferral takes place. The DIS policy is available on the DIS website: http://disabroad.org/application-and-fees/tuition-and-fees/cancellation-change-fees/

The cancellation and deferral policy for the program deposit and UO Study Abroad fees are outlined below:

- Students who cancel or defer their participation must notify GEO and DIS in writing (fax or email is acceptable). Verbal notification or notification given to GEO is not sufficient.

- This cancellation and deferral policy applies to all cancellations and deferrals regardless of the reason for cancellation or deferral, including but not limited to inability to secure proper legal status (i.e. passport, visa, etc.) in the host country of the participating program.
• If the program fee has not been received by GEO at the time of cancellation or deferral, the penalty amount will be billed by GEO.

• A student can defer up to twelve months from their original program, and then must cancel and re-apply. If a student defers by the deadlines listed above, their non-refundable application fee can be applied to future participation in a GEO program. The program deposit may be applied to future participation in a DIS program with the approval from DIS. The deposit cannot be applied to another GEO program other than a DIS program.

• If one of the above deadlines falls on a weekend or holiday, GEO accepts written notifications received on the following business day.

• GEO and DIS reserve the right to cancel a program due to low enrollment, natural disaster, public health emergency, political unrest, terrorism, acts of war or any other reasons beyond GEO’s control. If a program is cancelled prior to the start date for any of these reasons, GEO will issue refund according to the DIS refund policy. GEO assumes no further financial responsibility and is not responsible for airfare, visa fees, or any other fees related to the program that may have been paid. GEO strongly recommends students to purchase travel cancellation/interruption insurance.
