

THE BENEFITS OF PARTNERING

with Global Education Oregon

GO BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

Global Education Oregon (GEO) is a study abroad program provider based at the University of Oregon. In addition to serving as the campus study abroad office, we partner with more than 35 colleges and universities around the country offering students academically rigorous and thematically diverse study abroad programs at our centers in Europe, Africa, Asia and the Americas. We offer unique opportunities both for your students and faculty. GEO offers your faculty the opportunity to customize programs around the world and, if they wish, teach students from throughout the United States. The following are some benefits of affiliating with GEO.

1. Thematic, academically rigorous program offerings for your students with no additional institutional investment.
2. Collaboration with faculty at an innovative Research 1 institution.
3. Customized marketing materials designed for your campus and highlighting only those programs that your campus sponsors. We do not promote any programs that are not approved.
4. Comprehensive support for students, staff and faculty in matters related to promotion, recruitment, application, orientation, program participation, and reentry.
5. Customized billing arrangements.
6. Comprehensive risk management overseen by GEO staff in Oregon with protocols developed in collaboration with UO Risk Services; experienced directors on-site to work closely with GEO staff and students on all health and safety issues that may arise.
7. Access to GEO Scholarships such as the Ambassador Scholarship ($1,000 award) and the Map your Future Scholarship ($1,000), a freshman planning award.
8. Staff and faculty are eligible for development grants that support visits to GEO centers abroad and exploration of future customized programming.

Thank you for exploring a potential affiliation with GEO.
The affiliation process is unique to every campus, but here's how to get started:

- Request a sample MOU and/or affiliation agreement from your GEO representative.
- Identify campus stakeholders who should be involved in the affiliation process. These may include colleagues in Financial Aid, Office of the Registrar, Risk Management, Legal Services, Academic Deans, and International Affairs.
- Consider whether your campus will offer all of GEO's programs or choose a select few, based on the needs of your campus.
- Visit our website to learn more about student and faculty grants, risk management, customized program development, and other services that GEO provides exclusively to affiliated institutions.
